A Close Look at our Exhibition Program

Integrations and solutions for efficient information management

Under the motto “windream – 100% ECM!“, we will be presenting the complete integration of the windream ECM system into Microsoft Outlook for the first time at this year’s DMS EXPO. Furthermore, we will present the new windream Application Connector, an application for linking windream with branch-specific applications, and other current windream solutions.

Drilling into Outlook: ECM integration into e-mail application

At the DMS EXPO, we will be presenting the complete integration of the windream ECM system into the interface of the Microsoft Outlook e-mail client. The integration of the ECM functions is achieved directly via the Outlook folder structures. The windream integration will add further folder entries to the default mailboxes, allowing windream users to directly access the document stock of their windream ECM system.

E-mails captured in Outlook can conveniently be moved to the windream ECM system for compliant archiving via drag & drop operations. Within the windream system, documents can be retrieved via Outlook. Users just need to enter their desired search term into Outlook to receive a list of hits. Typically for windream, standard ECM functions can also be executed in Outlook, via the items in the extended windream context menu. Furthermore, the document preview "windream DocView" has been integrated into Outlook. The Outlook integration also supports the virtual file view "My windream", allowing users to configure individual views on document stocks without changing the actual folder and document structures in windream.

New to the portfolio: the windream Application Connector

The windream Application Connector allows windream users to link documents stored to the ECM system to branch-specific applications and to view the documents directly via the respective applications without requiring any knowledge in programming. Documents can be opened via previously configured key combinations, the so-called hotkeys. The hot-keys can be configured individually. This way, the Connector allows users to quickly and conveniently access windream documents linked to an application-specific process from a specialized application. This renders manual searches for documents completely unnecessary.

Further solutions in live presentations

Next to the Application Connector and the Outlook Integration, further ECM products will also be presented, including the most recent version of the "windream Imaging" solution and of the "windream BPM" workflow system. Once again, the exhibition program will be complemented by the presentations of our windream partners.

“The Best windream Partner Convention Ever!”

windream partners meet for networking and exchanging knowledge

The two-day windream partner convention in Cologne on September 8 and 9, 2014 – everybody agreed on that – was a great success. Interesting presentations, lively discussions, and great opportunities for networking were the highlights of the convention.

Two days packed with partner information

The agenda for the two days included a wide variety of topics. Whether in the presentation of marketing and sales supporting measures for windream partners or in the overview of the current windream products and the reports on technological innovations, the convention provided deep insights into the most recent windream developments.

Apart from that, our consulting department provided the participants with all kinds of practice-relevant know-how for their projects.

Next to the presentations, there were numerous opportunities for discussions and the exchange of opinions with other partners.

Exploring Cologne by boat and train

All participants will remember the evening event at the end of the first convention day fondly for a long time. In the sunny late-summer weather, the first program point was a boat trip on the Rhine, offering a spectacular view of Cologne's historical panorama. After that, a small motorized train took everybody on a tour through the old, picturesque alleyways around Cologne Cathedral. Everything was, of course, competently explained by two genuine Cologne natives.

Happy return home

At the end, all of the 70 participants were highly satisfied with the two-day windream partner convention. Several times during the two days, the event was declared the "best windream partner convention ever". We are very happy with the result, and eager to rise up to the same standards in the future. See you next time!

ECM convention in Switzerland

Successful Repetition of Paperless World

The Paperless World convention 2014 was a great success again. On September 3 and 4, KINETIC ag, our Swiss windream distributors, invited their partners and potential ECM customers to the Swiss Science Center Technorama in Winterthur, to inform on the current trends in the management of company-internal documents and in business process management.

Focus: the efficient, paperless office

In cooperation with their partners, KINETIC ag presented the possibilities for managing the everyday work in offices efficiently and entirely without hardcopy documents. The most recent trends were also presented, and were subject to lively discussions. True to this year's motto „working with the cloud“, the event especially focused on cloud-based document management.

windream representatives happy about lively discussions

windream GmbH also participated in the presentation program at the event. Our experts had the opportunity to lead many interesting discussions with visitors and to answer their questions on the windream ECM system.

dates throughout the year.

Furthermore, we offer optional certification exams for applying and checking the acquired knowledge on the basis of case examples. The exams take place as a practical test on an additional exam date or as a multiple choice test at the end of the last training day – depending on the module.
