digitalBAU: dataglobal Group presents solutions for the digital workplace at its own stand for the first time

Bochum, Germany. The dataglobal Group will be presenting software solutions for the construction industry at digitalBAU. The focus will be on digital document management systems (DMS), e-mail security solutions and managed services that companies can use to gain a competitive advantage. digitalBAU will take place from 20 to 22 February 2024 at the exhibition grounds in Cologne. The dataglobal Group stand will be located in hall 4.2, number 604.

Expanded product portfolio for the digital workplace

At the dataglobal Group stand, windream GmbH, dataglobal GmbH and eleven cyber security GmbH will present a wide-ranging product portfolio which offers numerous solutions for the planning and implementation of construction projects. This includes the digital construction file based on the windream system, which noticeably accelerates processes within construction projects. The protection of business-related e-mail communication is also an immensely important area in the construction industry, which is covered by the e-mail security solution eXpurgate. In addition, dataglobal GmbH's comprehensive range of managed services relieves construction managers of labour-intensive and time-consuming IT tasks.

"With our Digital Workplace offering, we enable companies in the construction industry to position themselves for the future and support them in their digital transformation," says Aleksandar Blazevski, Vice President Sales at dataglobal Group GmbH, adding: "We will convince visitors to digitalBAU of this and provide them with comprehensive information about the benefits of our ECM/DMS solutions, email security products and managed services."

Co-exhibiting partners present their solutions

The co-exhibiting partners complement the exhibition programme with their associated solutions for the construction industry. These are

- One Click Solutions GmbH with its solutions for input management and the targeted extraction of information from documents,
- ComputerLine GmbH, which has developed a solution for professional address and document management with windream integration into the cobra CRM, and
- the windream distributor in the Netherlands, ecmXperts, as a specialist for ECM solutions based on the windream system.
